MONTRÉAL.

Address of the Papal Legate
Opening the Eucharistic Congress.

Cardinal Vannutelli Has Only
Praise For American Catholics.

Declares That Providence Led to the Discovery of This Country.

NOTABLE RELIGIOUS GATHERING

With the arrival of Cardinal Vannutelli, representing Pope Pius X., Cardinal Lague and Cardinal Gibbons there was assembled in Montreal this week the most notable religious gathering ever witnessed on the American continent. Archbishops, Bishops and priests that numbered thousands were there to attend the great Eucharistic Congress, and from all parts of America were also present able and distinguished laymen. Every arrangement was made for a fitting reception and care of the dignitaries and visitors, and not a hitch occurred. The churches of the city were thronged from Sunday morning until the close, and the services surpassed anything ever before witnessed in America.

Cardinal Vannutelli, the Legate of the Pope, addressed the Eucharistic Congress Tuesday. After expressing his appreciation of the welcome tendered him, he continued in part as follows:

"How beautiful is the spectacle presented today to the entire universe by the Catholic church in this fortunate land of America. Europe stretches out her hand to America, and America, in a sublime enthusiasm, joins with her to exalt the greatest of the sacraments under the guidance and with the encouragement of the Supreme Pastor. It seemed at first as if the difficulties of such long voyage would deprive America of the honor and satisfaction of entertaining an international Eucharistic Congress. But faith will move mountains, and when planted in the heart, as it is in those of all Canadians, it regards no difficulties; it sees only the need which it has to assert and manifest itself. To Montreal belongs the honor of receiving within its walls the first international Eucharistic Congress, but there is every reason to hope that, thanks to this first example, other congresses will be held in America, alternating with those in Europe and other parts of the world."

"Toward the end of the fifteenth century a great occurrence, the discovery of America, revealed the aims reserved by Providence for modern times. God said to his church, as he had said to his Divine Son: 'I shall give thee as a heritage all the nations of the earth; I shall give unto thee the countless population of these immense regions, to be added to those already in my bosom. I shall raise up apostles who will spread my words through these new lands.' Here in particular to this beautiful valley of the St. Lawrence shall come champions of the faith and of civilization who will quickly transform this deserted, forest-clad land and will found a colony to establish here the Catholic religion and to effect the conversion of its savage peoples. Canada shall be the cradle of a great Christian world. Barely two centuries and a half shall have elapsed before Catholic North America shall see its flourishing dioceses attached to the ancient hierarchy of the churches of the old world and the universal Shepherd shall show to an astonished universe the old and the new world realizing the universality of the church, predicted by the Saviour to his apostles."

"Where can this universality, prepared by divine will, better manifest itself than in an international congress such as this which I have the satisfaction to salute in the name of the Holy Father—a congress of representatives of all the races and all the nationalities, united as members of a single family, of Bishops from all quarters of the Orient and Occident, of priests of divers rites, gathered from every country, of the faithful of every colony as on the day of Pentecost? I can not less admire the strong, the beautiful unity of which we are here the witnesses, unity of spirit in the truth, union of hearts in love. On either side of the ocean we chant the same creed. If you greet with such enthusiasm the Legate of the Pope it is because you wish to manifest before the whole world your love and your obedience to him at Rome whom you recognize as do all Catholics as the sole chief, the sole shepherd, the sole father of all souls. Where else can one meet such unity of faith, such unity of leadership, such union of souls in love, in convictions and in conduct? This unity, which has shown itself so magnificently at Brussels, at Lourdes, at London and in so many other great cities in Europe, shines out to still greater advantage in this city of Montreal, in this cathedral which strives to reproduce the Basilica of the Vatican."

"The secret of this unity, the bond of this union, lies in the sacrament which has brought about this congress—the Eucharist. Grouped around the same altar, united in the oblation of the same sacrifice, seated at the same table, invited to the same banquet, we drink from the same cup; we eat the same bread—the Miss Margaret Scanlon, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Elizabeth and the late James Scanlon, died Tuesday night at the family residence, 727 South Thirteenth street, and the sad news was the cause of profound grief among her wide circle of friends and relatives. This is the second bereavement in the family during the past five months, her sister, Mrs. Martin Joyce, dying in May. Miss Scanlon was a girl of sweet disposition and was a favorite with all who knew her. Besides her mother, she leaves several brothers and sisters. The funeral took place Thursday morning from the Sacred Heart church, with Rev. Patrick Walsh as celebrant of the solemn mass of requiem.

Monday morning the Sacred Heart church was thronged with mourning friends and relatives who came to pay their last tribute of respect to August Westerfeld, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed members of the parish, whose death followed a sudden and unexpected stroke of paralysis. Rev. Patrick Walsh was the celebrant of the mass of requiem, and in a feeling manner paid tribute to the life and character of the deceased. Mr. Westerfeld had resided at Seventeenth and Chestnut streets for forty years, and is survived by his wife and eight children. August, John and Louis, and Mrs. E. M. Young, Mrs. Edward A. Brennan, Josephine, Sadie and Anna Westerfeld.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Will Take Good Crowd to Owensboro For Debate.

Mackin Council held a busy session Monday night, with results that were gratifying to President Kenney and the members present. The Visiting Committee reported but three on the sick list and they were improving. When announcement was made that the Social Club had over $200 to turn into the council treasury there was a hearty round of applause, which was repeated when the committee reported that every arrangement for the lawn fete had been completed, and that all indications pointed to the realization of a sum sufficient for the payment for the beautiful memorial window that will be placed in the new St. Cecilia's church now nearing completion.

All the members were invited to accompany Mackin's representatives, Messrs. Louis Kleffner and William Burke, to Owensboro on Sunday, when the much talked of debate with Sarto Council will take place. The trip will be made over the Louisville and Nashville, which will provide special coaches for at least 200 people.

It will be pleasant news to the young people of the city to learn that the Social Club will be continuing and will repeat its series of successful winter dances and entertainments.

SOCIAL CLUB OFFICERS.

At its last meeting Mackin Social Club elected the following officers: President—Dr. J. A. Casper; Vice President—M. Falahay; Secretary—William A. Cassin; Treasurer—A. C. Link.

Last year was the most successful one in the history of Mackin Social Club, and the members and their friends have every reason to believe that under the leadership of its new President this year will even exceed the one just passed. The opening dance, which is always a grand success, will be given the latter part of this month. They will continue the extra dances, which made such a hit last year, and will add new ones. They are sure to satisfy their many friends.

OPENING AND RECEPTION.

ARCHBISHOP TO HIBERNIANS.

At the Massachusetts State convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, recently held in Lowell, Archbishop O'Connell delivered a most notable address. It was terse and timely and no doubt can be entertained of its good effect. The eloquent prelate most truthfully said:

"Unfortunately the great glory of the race is not appreciated enough by the younger men. I refer to the Irish-American element of the race born in this country. They are inclined to minimize what they hear of Ireland's history and what she has done for civilization and learning in the past centuries. No one yet, living or dead, has done real justice to Irish history. The great and true lover of Ireland has yet to write the story of Erin. The Irish race has a primacy among the races, no matter what its material, financial or government conditions may be."

The history of Ireland as written is a conspiracy against the truth. There is so much purposeful misrepresentation, and I say it regrettably, of Irish history, that the student, the seeker after the truth, must wade through dense volumes to get at the kernels of Erin's history, to gather here and there the real sentiments and spirit that animate the Irish race. It is not necessary to go into details to prove this statement. I make it with the hope that it may echo through every Irish heart listening to my words. The Irish race has been patient for three centuries. It is time to open the eyes of the world's historians on the jeweled pages of Irish history. These are my solid convictions as an Irishman and as a deep student of history. Thank God! I am Irish by blood, by sympathy and, one might say, by desire. Speaking as a student, it seems to me that thus far there is lacking a true understanding of the spirit of self-sacrifice that the children of Ireland have made for the faith of Jesus Christ, and to keep the spirit of Irish nationality."

His Grace is a native of Lowell, the son of Irish parents, and of a stock eminent in Irish history.

AID THE OLD.

Truly is it said that nothing is more beautiful or Christ-like in the character of the young than a kind and gentle regard for the old. They whose failing steps are slowly descending the sunless slope of age have but one consolation as the years speed by them, and that is the tenderness and consideration of those whose lives the beauties of the morning are breaking.

Age is a season of physical infirmity, of mental retrospection, of shattered dreams and earthly disappointments. No more for the old is there a glamor in the rolling stars, no more a freshness in the spring, no more a triumph in the years. The thousand melodies of the present sound far off to their aged ears and its charms are blurred in the dimmed eyes whose tears fall on the graves of old affections.

Treat them gently, youth and maiden, for by their travail and their sacrifice are you the possessors not only of existence in the world in whose splendors you exalt, but also for the prosperity and happiness you thoughtlessly enjoy. Never mind if she or he be old and feeble and of humble garb—they look to you in their helpless years to aid with gentle courtesy their tottering steps. God's blessing will reward you if you do.

WHAT WINS.

There are none who will not agree with the Rochester Catholic Citizen in its declaration that every youth beginning his life in the world of affairs should know that pleasant address, respectful attention to every one, rich or poor, high or low, is what wins. A sour, gruff, surly answer to questions asked, never pays and never will. A pleasant "yes, sir," or "no, sir," goes farther than most young men or young women realize. Acting out the poor may be a natural trait of character, but it does not win. At the old Lindell House in St. Louis a gentleman out of health stopped a few weeks. The table girl who waited on him took special pains to get what would be relished best by the sick man. Most waiters avoid invalids and do not care to wait on them. She had a sympathetic nature, and it showed itself whenever there was an opportunity. The sick man left the hotel and about a year after there came a draft to the table girl

SPLENDID

Meeting and Large Gathering of Hibernians Monday.

A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of Division 3, A. O. H., was held Monday night, with not one of the officers absent. The first business was the obligation of James J. Carroll and the report of the Visiting Committee that Patrick O'Brien had recovered from his illness.

State President Butler, County President Welch and President F. T. Sullivan were present, and in interesting talks outlined the work that was expected of the State convention to be held next week at Ashland. D. J. Coleman reported the successful results of an official visit by State Secretary William J. Connelly and himself to Covington, where they were given a genuine Hibernian welcome.

Following an interesting address by Lawrence J. Mackey on the results of the national convention and the work to be done to strengthen the order in the Southern States, Messrs. Michael Sheehan, Patrick Hooley and Michael Dineen, pioneers in the work of the Ancient Order in Kentucky, were called upon and made short talks that were well received. On account of the State convention and the absence of the officers from the city adjournment was taken till the first Monday in October.

COVINGTON

Jubilee Celebration of St. Anne's Church Big Event.

Judged from the last reports the coming jubilee celebration of St. Anne's church in Covington will be the greatest event in the history of that parish and of more than ordinary interest throughout the diocese. The pastor, Rev. William B. Ryan, one of the best known priests in Kentucky, assisted by several committees of energetic young hunters, is working hard to complete an elaborate programme, which will cause this jubilee to be commemorated in ideal fashion. The church is undergoing many improvements and will present a beautiful appearance on that occasion, as will the rectory and the Sisters' residence, which are also being improved. Father Ryan was for a number of years Grand Chaplain of the Young Men's Institute in this State, and it is expected that a number of the councils will be represented at the jubilee.

VANDALS RAID CHURCH.

Burglars got into St. Bonaventure College at Allegheny, three miles west of Olean, N. Y., Friday night and stole seven golden chalices from the altar of the adjoining church. They also tore and destroyed altar draperies and trimmings that were not of negotiable value. The poor box was torn from the wall and its contents taken. The total damage and loss to the church was about $1,700.

CONVALESCENT.

Mrs. Patrick Ansbro, one of the best known and highly respected women of Jeffersonville, who has been critically ill at her home, 512 Illinois avenue, is now convalescent and on the speedy road to recovery, to the great relief of her many friends and relatives.

HOT AND COLD.

The hottest and coldest temperatures are reported from American cities. Miles City, Mont., shows the greatest variation, 111 degrees in summer and 67 degrees below zero in winter—an extreme variation of 178 degrees. Records at Phoenix, Ariz., give 119 degrees, and Yuma, Ariz., 118 degrees. The southernmost point of Florida is the only place in the United States where a freezing temperature has never been recorded. The Tatoosh Island in the San Juan de Fuca waterway between Oregon and Vancouver shows the least variation in temperature, varying between 80 degrees for the highest and 50 degrees for the lowest.

GREATNESS.

Greatness is not the result of mere chance or genius; it is not the fact of being brilliant, nor the desperate sally of ambition; but on the contrary, the combined results of strong mental endowment and persistent determination to succeed; vigorous cultivation of the best in us, honorable design, and a wise direction of all our forces and unswerving from that which our conscience tells us to be right.

DARK CAKE.

The following recipe is for a dark cake, which makes either one large cake or two small ones. Two cups of light brown sugar, one-half cupful of dark molasses, two cupfuls of sour milk, one-half cupful of butter or oleomargarine, four cupfuls of flour, two teaspoonfuls of soda, one teaspoonful of cloves or allspice, one and one-half cupfuls of raisins. By adding more fruit will make a fruit cake.

BAKED BANANAS.

Peel six bananas and place in an agate baking pan. Mix one-third or a cupful of sugar with two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Pour this over the bananas and bake twenty minutes in a slow oven, take out, turn out into a dish and get away to cool. Serve with whipped cream.

Late News That Will Interest
Members Here and Elsewhere.

BISHOP BURKE.

The two Milwaukee councils spent Labor day at the Springbank Catholic Chautauqua.

Four hundred persons attended a smoker given by Denver Council last week in the new hall. It was the first for a number of years past.

Milwaukee Knights have filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State. The capital stock is $50,000, and the object the maintenance of the new club house.

A big escort of Indianapolis Knights is being arranged to receive the Papal Ablegate, Monsignor Falcomo, when he arrives to participate in the consecration of Bishop-elect Chartrand.

Commencing Sunday, October 2, the Rev. Bernard L. Conway, Paulist Father of New York, will give series of lectures under the auspices of Terre Haute Council, which will conclude on the succeeding Sunday.

The New Orleans Fourth Degree Assembly are making great preparations for the exemplification in that city on Sunday, October 16. Following the exemplification will be a banquet, at which prominent men from many States will be speakers.

Theodore Roosevelt will be the guest of the Knights of Peoria, Ill., on October 12, and will speak at the banquet commemorating the landing of Columbus 418 years ago. With him will be Bourke Cockran, the great New York lawyer and Democratic orator.

VISITING HIS BROTHER.

Rev. Emmet B. Kennedy, of Mobile, Ala., left last week to spend a fortnight in Philadelphia and at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg. Before his return he will visit his brother, Joseph Kennedy, at Annapolis. Father Kennedy will reach Louisville next week and will be with his mother until he leaves for Mobile.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.

Heels are to be lower. The plaited frill holds its vogue wonderfully well.

Jet for buttons is not quite as popular as last year.

The colonel's plume is more than ever worn on small hats.

Lace and plain linen turnovers will be worn on stocks of silk.

Black satin tailormades are good.

The smartest new hats are low, broad affairs.

New and fetching are bags and belts of cretonne incrusted with fine belts of soutache.

Turbans are rising in height and also showing the narrow effect of the crown apex.

Scarf silk, with deep double border, is the popular gauzy material for evening gowns.

Small hats of sealskin, bell shaped, with a small brim and military turbans are to be much in vogue.

Hoods are seen on many of the handsomest evening capes. These are often finished with a tassel more or less elaborate.

Gilt buttons, which have been exceedingly popular on the colored boxy dresses this summer, will be used on the fall gowns.

For skirt trimming nothing is better than wide folds of the same material or satin of the same color used in folds. These are untrimmed.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week--General News Notes.

Colorado's next State convention will be held in Denver.

Milwaukee will have the Wisconsin State convention two years hence.

With 242 divisions and nineteen military companies, Massachusetts has a total membership of 46,620.

Three hundred guests attended the banquet and closing festivities of the State convention at Janesville, Wis.

A feature of the Maine State convention at Bangor this month will be a class initiation of 100 candidates.

There will be no meeting of Divisions 1, 2 or 3 or the Ladies' Auxiliary until after the Ashland convention.

Division 1 will soon begin preparations for a winter entertainment that will surpass any it has yet undertaken.

The annual "Irish day" of the Indianapolis divisions was a success. German flags were conspicuous at the park.

About sixty-five delegates of the order and forty from the Ladies' Auxiliary will constitute the Maine convention on September 20.

The graves of deceased members were decorated at St. John, N. B., September 4. This tribute to departed brothers is observed annually in that city.

State President John J. Mahoney, of Chicago, declares the Illinois State convention at East St. Louis the most harmonious and successful ever held.

Division 4 meets Monday night, when all the arrangements for the trip to Ashland will be announced. President Hennessy wants all the members present.

At a recent Hibernian demonstration at Omeath, Ireland, the procession extended over two miles in length. Louth, Armagh, Down and Antrim sent large delegations.

Directed by State President P. B. Walsh, one of Terra Haute's most representative citizens, Indiana will show a substantial increase in members during the ensuing two years.

Tomorrow the Ladies' Auxiliaries of Indianapolis will have a county initiation, and on the following Sunday the divisions of Tipton and Kokomo will initiate at the latter place.

Much praise is being bestowed on D. J. Coleman by members everywhere for his energy and work, which has been of material benefit to each of the four divisions and the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Following the State convention comes the county convention and the election of officers for the next two years. With the material to select from a County Board of great strength and ability will be chosen.

John Keaney, Secretary of Division 2, wore broad smile last week, and with good reason, for on Sunday a little John, Jr., was christened. At the meeting of Division 2 last Friday night he had to have an assistant in order that he might have time to receive the congratulations of his Hibernian friends, who hope the youngster may follow in the footsteps of his worthy father and grandfather, Michael Keaney.

MACAULEY'S.

"The Girl 'n the Kimono," a production that has had a long run in Chicago, which speaks well for its drawing power, will be Macauley's opening offering for next week. It is a farce with music and the stage setting and costuming are said to be beautiful. A large chorus, with some stunning dance effects, are said to make "The Girl in the Kimono" a picturesquely offering for the early season.

HOPKINS' THEATER.

The large daily attendance at the Hopkins' Theater attests its popularity with the amusement loving public and gives assurance of a most successful season. Well ventilated, roomy and comfortable, it is an ideal place to spend the leisure hours. The management announces a programme for the third week of its vaudeville season that is rich in attractive features and a run of motion pictures that is equally meritorious.

NEW DANCING CLUB.

The Chanticleer Dancing Club has organized for the coming season and will give a series of dances at Utopian Hall, the opening dance being Tuesday, September 27. The members of the club are John J. Callon, Lawrence D. Meany, J. U. Burks, Joseph C. Roggenkamp, David C. Burke, William B. Meany, Charles F. McDevitt, James J. McTigue, James R. Meany, Dave Burke, Francis Fitzgibbons, Abe Menzin and Ben H. Deming.

SISTERS VISIT SISTERS.

Sister M. Loretta, of the Mount Carmel order, who was the guest of her sisters, Mrs. M. Fineran, of Avondale, and Mrs. R. Austin, Madison avenue, Covington, for two weeks, for the first time in a number of years, has returned to her convent home in New Orleans. She was accompanied by Sister Mary St. Luke, who also visited her sister, Mrs. Catherine Reagan, of South Norwood.

COUNTRY SUPPER.

The people of Pee-wee Valley and vicinity will give a eucore on Thursday, September 22, for the benefit of St. Aloysius' church, when a good country supper will be served for visitors from the city. Father Edward Boes is the pastor, and the proceeds will go to help him in the work he is doing for God and his people.
